The Icelandic National League of North America (Þjóðræknisfélag Íslendinga í Vesturheimi), established in 1919, is a non-political cultural organization which strives to contribute to North American culture through the preservation and promotion of Icelandic heritage.

The objectives are: to promote the strengthening of cultural bonds and kinship ties with the people of Iceland, and work with local clubs for the purpose of encouraging the advancement of Icelandic culture and language in North America.

The League is in contact with and supportive of:

- Betel Home Foundation
- Canada Iceland Foundation Inc.
- Icelandic Collection - University of Manitoba
- Icelandic Cultural & Language Camp
- Icelandic Festival of Manitoba
- Jon Sigurdsson Chapter of the IODE
- Logberg-Heimskringla
- New Iceland Heritage Museum
- The Icelandic Canadian magazine

The League is administered by a board of officers and directors who are representatives of various member organizations.

Local Chapter:

League projects include:

- Heritage Placename Signs
- Heritage Calendars
- Pins & Crests

The Heritage Place-name Signs, attractive blue and white "Heritage" markers, identify Icelandic homesteads, landmarks, historic sites and residential properties.

Each year, a specific theme is selected for the annual Heritage Calendar. The project is a fundraiser for both the INL and its Chapters.

INL of North America Pins and Crests are available for sale at the office. The official League crest is also available to member associations for reproduction.

Other League activities include:

- International Visits Program
- Government of Iceland Scholarships
- Snorri Program
- INL internet "Chat Room" & Web site

The International Visits Program has led to exchange visits of artists, musicians and writers between Iceland and North America.

Scholarships to study in the 'Icelandic for Foreign Students' program at the University of Iceland in Reykjavík are made available through the courtesy of the Ministry of Education, Science and Culture, Government of Iceland. Two scholarships are awarded each year.

The League holds an annual convention in various locations throughout North America.
