Ströndin Internet Radio Introduces – Program #7

A commercial-free internet Arts & Entertainment program for Icelandic-North Americans.

Program #7 begins with an historical description of “Harpa” the current season found in the Old Norse/Icelandic Calendar.

We are presenting just two items in this very special edition of our show.

Item One - is an 11 minute excerpt from an entertaining speech, praising in part - Viking Ships and their ancient creators. The talk was given by James Delgado, Executive Director of the Vancouver Maritime Museum at the recent “Munin” Viking Ship Fund Raising Dinner in Burnaby, B.C. Besides being the head of the V.M.M, Mr. Delgado is also an active Marine Archeologist, Marine Biologist, Author and Co-Host of the popular National Geographic “Sea Hunters” television series.

Item Two - is a 20 minute feature interview with Vigdís Finnbogadóttir, former President of Iceland. Heather Alda Ireland was in Iceland recently and attended the conference and celebrations marking the 75th birthday of the former president. Heather managed to speak with Vigdís privately in her Reykjavík home and the resulting interview for S.I.R. reveals that the former president is still very busy with numerous responsibilities in Iceland and on the World Stage.

We are pleased to announce that this special Program #7 is now available “On Demand” at our website: <http://www.pennan.ca/SIR/>. You can “tune us in”, so to speak, at any time of the day or night and you will be able to see and hear this new program at your leisure for the next few months. Enjoy !

We are also making available at this time, Programs 4, 5 and 6.

If you appreciate these commercial-free shows, please help us to promote the series by passing on the URL address and comments to your friends, relatives and acquaintances.

Best regards to all !

- the S.I.R. team.
